Students Win Art Contest

The art department of Pasco High School has just received the names of persons who received awards in the Scholastic Art Awards contest which was held in Seattle.

Don Jones entered a tapestry which was done with ink and won a gold medal and blue ribbon.

Carole Martin entered three oil paintings and six water color paintings. She received a gold key for one of her oil paintings and a placement award for one of her water colors.

Jim Goodson won an award of merit for his mixed media painting.

These three students have sent their work to New York to be entered in the National Scholastic Awards contest.

Symphatinas Will Entertain

The Symphatinas, the string instrument group at PHS, will entertain at the Odd Fellows banquet which will be held April 20 at the Odd Fellows Temple.

The members are Roxanna Cook, Tamara Small, Marlene Short, Sharon Simmonds, Patsy O'Donnell, Sharon Dragoo, Gerald Carr, Lawrence Olsen and Tom Porter.

$100 Bonds Awarded

Marcia Lentz and Clark Romans, both seniors, have each been awarded a $100 bond by the Elks Scholarship and Leadership Committee, BPOE No. 1730, Pasco.

Marcia received the award in the women's leadership division, and Clark received his in the men's scholastic division. Other winners who will receive $100 bonds are Dave Warren, leadership division, and Tobe Sue Roberts, scholastic division, both of Richland.

Each of the four will automatically be entered in the state competition and if they win in that, the national competition. At the state level they are eligible for $500 wardads.

Last year Camilla Bloom, Kennewick, won both the local and state awards and was one of the finalists on the national level.

Library Week Begins April 16

Library week will start on April 16 and last until April 22. To celebrate library week there will be some attractive commercial displays. Also, there will be book markers available for the students in the library.

Several weeks ago the library had a book display on exhibit in the different English classes. The students were asked to submit the names of the books they favored. The librarians are now tabulating those results and the books may be in some time this year. If not they will be here for next year's students.

Parents Club Selects Name

At the last meeting of the newly-formed Parents Music Club with thirty parents present, the name "C.O.B. Booster Club" was chosen. "C.O.B." stands for chorus, orchestra, and band.

All parents of students who are taking a music course at the high school are invited to join the club.

The swing choir from Pasco High School provided the entertainment, and refreshments were served after the meeting.

George Skinnel, Jerry Baker, Bob Grooms, Carol Markert and Mrs. Margaret Lorain, D.E. advisor, attended a State Distributive Education Conference at Warden, Wash., from March 12-14.

The banquet was held at Columbia Basin College and was sponsored by the Pasco-Kennewick Rotary Club.

Dr. Katz spoke on "A Testament for Youth." Dr. Katz has been a member of the University faculty since 1936, with time out for service as an intelligence officer during World War II. He is the author of two books, the latest being "Decline of Rome and Rise of Medieval Europe."

Summer Camp Slated At WSU

The Twenty-ninth Annual Senior High School Summer Camp is again being held on the campus of Washington State University at Pullman this year. It begins June 12 and lasts through July 8.

The classes which are being offered are in music, journalism, speech, and fine arts. Recreational facilities will be provided for all to participate in. The staff will consist of thirty teachers, a counseling staff of ten and a recreational staff of eight.

The tuition for the four weeks is $34.50 and the cost for room and board is $73.50. Anyone interested in attending the Summer Camp may see Mrs. Bernice Davidson for further information.

Students Enter Tournament

Ten Pasco High School students are competing in the Forensic Tournament at the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma which started yesterday (March 16) and will end tomorrow.

Entered in the oratory division are Leslie Weaver, Jim Phillips, Ron Bracy, Sally Saunders, Maureen Burns, Barbara Barnes, and Ralph Bellande. They may speak on any topic but are limited to 600-800 words.

JoAnn Smith will speak in the extemporaneous division, and her subject will be a subtopic of "Recent Problems in the Continent of Africa." The minimum length of her speech must be six minutes.

Sally Saunders, Tom Mills-paugh, Ron Bracy, Ralph Bellande, Maureen Burns, and Barbara Barnes are also competing in the interpretive reading division.

Thespians Set Banquet Date

National Thespians have chosen May 1 to be the date for their annual banquet at which stars and bars, which are earned by members participating in the various activities, will be awarded.

The place for the banquet has not yet been decided on, and this year the dress will not be formal. Girls will wear date dresses with heels, and boys will wear suits.

Each year the Thespian members vote for a girl and a boy whom they feel have done the most outstanding Thespian work during the year. These two members, who must be seniors, are presented with Oscars at the banquet.

Hi-Y News

Terry McCarthy, as a representative from the ASB Council, spoke to the last meeting of Hi-Y about the club raising money for a foreign student next year.

Tentative plans are for a public showing of a movie and a dance afterwards, but these plans are not definite yet.

Want To Travel To Europe?

Just think what a marvelous opportunity is available to you if you will be attending Pasco High School next year. If enough funds are raised, a foreign exchange student will be going to classes right along with you, exchanging ideas, customs, and information with you about his country.

Here you will have the perfect way to travel: no expense, highly-informative, interesting, and right in your own backyard. All you have to do is raise enough money to sponsor a foreign exchange student—$350 more, to be exact.

But this isn't such a tremendous sum. The P.T.A. is sponsoring a pancake feed sometime in April, and it should be the pleasurable duty of every student to help if he is able. And if more than $350 is raised, a student from Pasco High School might be traveling as an ambassador to Europe next summer.

So come on guys and gals and support this project. Remember, it isn't only the job of the P.T.A. to raise the money; it is the duty of the students too, because the foreign exchange student is for us. (And for those of us who won't be here next year, we should still be concerned with the matter and cooperate as much as possible.)

Bri-Antics and Views

What a relief it is to have quarter tests over with. I'll bet that this is what many of you are thinking and saying, and how right you are.

Just a friendly reminder to those who may have fallen down in their grades. The teachers are always willing to help any student who is having a hard time and who really wants help. They are usually understanding and want to see everyone do his best. So be sure and see your teachers if you are having trouble.

Also, don't forget the tutoring classes every Tuesday and Thursday noon, sponsored by the National Honor Society. If you have been absent for a long period of time or if you are having an especially hard time with a certain subject, come in for some help.

News Briefs

The Western Washington College of Education Band from Bellingham, Wash., under the direction of Professor Jerome Glass will give a concert at Pasco High School on March 22, first hour. All students are invited to attend this concert.

Forty band members, 137 a cappella members and the Symphatina orchestra from Pasco High School participated in the Tri-City Music Festival held last Monday, March 13, at the Kennewick High School.

Jan Peterson has been elected the delegate from Hi-Y to attend the Youth Legislature in Olympia some time in April. Jan is a junior and attended the Youth Legislature held in Yakima earlier.

"The Sinewesah" is almost completed and should be finished by the first of April to turn over to the printers. It will be ready to distribute about the first of June, 1961," said Miss Ogata.

The Sinewesah staff will start collecting the balances due on the Sinewesah right after Spring Vacation.

Junior Prom Theme Chosen

The junior class has selected "Crystal Enchantment" as the theme of the Junior Prom which will be held Saturday night, March 25.

The dance will be held in the high school cafeteria and there will be no charge for seniors. The prices are $1.50 per couple and $1.00 stag.

Committee heads working on the dance are Dianne Holter, theme and decorations; Marie Anderson, programs; and Linda Brown, refreshments.

Teachers Take Note

If you could be one of Pasco High's teachers, which one would you be and why? This question was asked of some PHS students and here are their answers.

Janet Noble — Mr. Foxley, because he is interesting and you can understand him.

Sharon Burke — Mrs. Jones, because she is so sweet to everybody.

Sharon Smith — Mr. Mayberry, because he's handsome.

Phil Tilton — Mr. Gregson, because he has authority.

Jean Allman — Mr. Myers, because he is funny and he sure can fool you.

Linda Adams — Mr. Gower, because he never does anything.

Shane Griffin — Mr. Birkenfeld, so I could get revenge on my enemy (Terry Miller).

Dianne Holter — Mrs. Lorain, because she is so nice and pleasant and so understanding.

Ken Craven — Mr. Chadwick, because he is so smart.

Charlene Hess — Mrs. Gustafson, because she has all the answers to happiness.

Pete Lorain — Mr. Foxley, because all the Junior girls are chasing him.

Marianne Palmer — Miss Booth, because she drives a white Falcon.

Outlook: PHS May Start Own War

What are the chances of a third world war? Having been asked this question, some of Pasco High's students answered the following:

Ron Richwine—very slim.

Judy McKinstry—won't say because I'm a Communist.

Frank Dutton—I think they are good.

Dan Holmes—leave it to Mr. Kennedy.

Larry Hilton—maybe the Russian girls will see our girls and then—

Pat McNeil—ask Mr. Birkenfeld.

Sharon Johnson—if Mr. Gregson keeps this up there'll be war.

Jane Logston—who likes to guess? I have a secret informer.

Judy Culbert—not any.

Doug Mason—if Hitler helps me, we'll conquer the world.

Pat Palmer—if the girls keep chasing the boys they'll go to war to get away.

Steve Allen—Alfred E. Newman hasn't predicted yet.

Band News

Measurements for band uniforms were made Tuesday, March 4. The uniforms will cost $4,000 of which $2,000 has to be made as a down payment. The band department now has $1,500. The new parent's club, C.O.B. Booster Club, is planning on helping the band by some money-making projects.

Science Fair Postponed

The Sigma Delta Science Fair has been postponed until April 14-15 because of lack of sufficient time for preparation, club officers announced.

All high schools in Franklin County are invited to participate and enter exhibits. It is hoped that there will be displays from the University of Washington and from Hanford. A member of the General Electric Company, Richland, will be on hand to speak.

Everyone Should Have A Hobby

I just got the word a while back that there is an excellent chef at Pasco High. His name —Jerry (Jazzbo) Washburn. I have been told he can bake a cake better than any girl. His specialty seems to be pineapple upside down cake. All of his pastries taste delicious. Also, I hear he looks real cute in an apron. Since President Kennedy is looking for a chef to cook for him, maybe if "Jazzbo" puts his application in real soon, he might be lucky enough to get a job in the White House!

Students of Pasco High, have you noticed a silver-blue 1950 Chevy tudor sedan in the parking lot lately? This car, belonging to Tom Brandon, is being featured because he has spent quite a lot of time fixing it up. He removed the chrome and leaded in the holes. A rake job was put on it by heating the coils, and the paint job was done in a silver-blue. It has duel pipes and the inside was painted by Duane Wattenburger. New seat covers were added and rolls and pleats are used in the back window shell. A special added feature to Tom's car is that the right door doesn't work. (Hmmm. I wonder if this is for his own convenience.)

Sleeping Beauties

Have you ever wondered how it would feel to fall asleep in a class one hour and wake up in the next hour's class? Well, if you ever need any advice on the subject, here are three boys that are experts in this field.

Ron Anderson. I'll bet it was an embarrassing fifth hour for Ron when he was drowsily trying to keep his eyes open and awoke to find he was in sixth hour but in the wrong class. How about it Ron?

"Yeah, it was embarrassing. Someone called my name, I woke up, looked around, then went back to sleep. All of a sudden I realized what had happened so I jumped up and ran out."

Doug Wise. You can imagine how Doug must have felt to be sleeping away in his sixth hour class only to snap out of it and find himself in detention. What was the first thing that came to your mind, Doug?

"Where'd everybody go?"
Larry Adams. Here's a guy that let it go to his stomach. After falling asleep in Mr. Birkenfeld's fifth hour class and waking up in sixth hour he was asked how he felt. His only reply was, "I felt pretty sick."

This Is A Democracy

For the benefit of anyone who may be in doubt about the efficiency of Home Room meetings at Pasco High, we have here the minutes of Mr. Hauser's Home Room meeting of February 9, 1961.

The President called the meeting to order. The minutes of the previous meeting were read. Rudy Taron moved that they be accepted and David Krudwig seconded the motion. Tom Patrick asked the reason for accepting them. Rudy called for the previous question. No vote was taken. Kent Patterson read the S.A.C. minutes. Greg Arbogast read the A.S.B. minutes and the class discussed the idea of having a standard school ring. David Clark made a motion that this plan be accepted. Discussion followed. Rudy called the previous question. A vote was taken. There were 5 for and 11 against. Tom Patrick asked if our bulldog had a name. Mr. Hauser said that the bulldog was still in the art room. Clark Romans mentioned that very few people sang the national anthem at the games. He wondered if a patriotic saying might be placed around the flag to help get people to feel more like singing. Rudy called for the previous question. Rudy said that he had heard the song was too difficult to sing and Congress was thinking of changing it. Mr. Hauser said this was very unlikely. Rudy asked that his previous statement be struck from the minutes. At this time the bell rang. Someone said something about adjourning the meeting but most of the class, including the secretary, was already gone.

David Clark, Home Room Secretary

Boys, Be Careful!

By CHRIS PHILLIPS

In Victorian times, when the language of flowers was in vogue, a young man who sent a corsage to his girl had to watch his step. A red rose meant "I love you," but a yellow rose complained "you are fickle."

A charming custom that might well be revived, the language of flowers has an extensive vocabulary. There is no "authorized" translation. Often you'll find several meanings assigned to the same flower, but here's one interpretation of familiar blooms.

Purple orchids mean you are beautiful; white orchids—please return my affection; and yellow orchids—thinking of you.

Yellow carnations say, "I'll consider your offer"; pink carnations—you make me blush; and white carnations—hoping for a lovely time.

Gardenias say, "Your smile is divine"; pink roses—I'll be true; and daisies—I'm indifferent to you.

So, guys attending the Junior Prom, you had better watch out what kind of flower you send the lucky gal you're escorting. You may say something in this flower lingo that you don't mean.

Mas vale pajaro en mano que ciento volando.

A New Girl In Our School

When the boys start a scrubbin' and combin' up their hair,

When they stand about the halls and blush and stare; Then you can bet the tree of Yule,

That there's a new girl in our school.

When the girls sulk and stomp and pout,

And the boys' eyeballs all pop out,

And they tell you they're no fool,

Cause they saw the new girl in our school.

When a girl puts blinders on her steady,

And when he wants to go she's ready,

And she stops being stubborn as a mule,

It's cause she's scared of the new girl in our school.

But don't let these kids fool you.

The story we just told's a lu-lu,

Cause we know that she is cool;

That's the new girl in our school.

I Was A Teenage History Book

By Verni Ann Cunningham

Hi! I am Miss History, a book in locker number 502. Spring is almost here and I'm so sad. I'm not being used so much as before and any master (who is really having a terrible time mastering me) took me home just one night last week. I'm feeling terribly neglected! When he finally got me home after having taken that stupid girl friend of his home, he just sat around and moped because he couldn't see her that night. He didn't even open me up.

Now I'm back in the locker, where he just carelessly tossed me. Oh, oh, here he comes. (Five minutes later.) Well, I've never been so humiliated! Do you know what happened? He opened the locker, reached in took out Mrs. Typing (the old grouch) instead of me!

I suppose I might as well give up, this year, but next year, maybe I'll get some boy who is interested in me.

This little baldheaded girl is now a Senior at Pasco High. She was born in Hutchinson, Kansas on December 2, 1942. Her junior year she was GAA president, SAC representative, and is in Girl's Lettermen and Pep Club. Her favorite food is pizza and her favorite saying is "That's swingin'". She was the Belle of the Christmas program. Can you guess who it is?

Most teen-agers are keenly aware of the dollar. It buys about three gallons of gasoline.

"I understand that she fairly threw herself at him."

"Yes, they met in an automobile collision."

She: And are mine the only lips you have kissed?

He: Yes, and they are the sweetest of all.

"How long has your cook been with you?"

"Oh, about three husbands."

Scandal In The Faculty Dept.

By MARY RICE

Looking through the WASCO's of years ago, I came upon some very interesting material. Interesting to us students, but maybe rather embarrassing for the people concerned.

Mr. Carl Myers was quite a prankster in his high school years. Howabout the time you filled the Mayor's car with mud, Mr. Myers?

In 1945 it seems as though all Mr. Bidstrup — better known as "Doc" in the good old days at PHS — was on was bicycles.

Twirp Week, 1946 — Mr. Foxley seemed to be enjoying himself when escorted to the show by four Senior girls. He said they should have Twirp Week more often. Also, in '46 Mr. Foxley was the newest member of the "Cupid Club." What were the requirements to belong?

1951 — Mr. Wally Brown was an escort for Homecoming. He also played on the basketball team as guard.

1944 — Mr. Gregson wrote the high school saying he expected to be shipped overseas. Were you?

1947 — Mr. Scott Foxley, or Billy Foxley as he was known then, was quite a basketball player. More scandal — in a poll taken in his high school years he was asked of his spring vacation plans. His brilliant reply, "I ain't got any."

Looking back on the 1928 honor roll, I couldn't find Mr. Morgan's name. What do you make of that? In 1949 he was a football coach at PHS.

The Seniors this year should feel quite privileged that they graduate in the auditorium. When Mr. Morgan graduated it was in the basement of the Liberty Theater.

El amigo en la adversidad es amigo en realidad.
